Racing Returns to All American Speedway With the Red, White & Blue Race in Honor of Independence Day

Source RMG Race Media Group

NASCAR Whelen All American Series will make its return to All American Speedway for its next championship point's race this Saturday July 2nd. On tap will be NASCAR Late Models Twin 50s, Modifieds 40 and Bombers 35. The championship series took a week break due to the Placer County Fair was in action providing Monster Trucks, Lawnmower racing, Freestyle Motocross, Hot Rod Trucks and Tractor Pulls on the speedway. As the weather continues to get warmer with Saturday expecting triple digit temperatures the points will also continue to get heated providing lots of racing excitement.

The NASCAR Late Models will be making their return for their eighth championship points race this weekend with a new points leader Matt Scott. Scott has now captured the top spot with 24 points ahead of Romero in second. Romero who took a break in racing to vacation in Mexico dropped to second in points. Juan Pitta, in third, is now 12 points from second. Chris Scribner in third is a mere 16 points away from Pitta. Rookie Dylan Hutchison gained two spot and is now in the fifth position with only 6 points away from fourth. Ron Chunn is now in the sixth position followed by Gary Glenn in seventh. With the Late Model drivers heading into the weekend with twin 50's will Romero be able to take back the top spot?

No changes were made in the Bomber division as they move into their ninth championship points race this weekend. Chris Paulson is still leading the way in points with a total of 169. Erick Ray is a mere 16 points from the leader and his hoping to gain more points this weekend to be closer to the top spot. Matt Camp in third is 14 points from second followed by Richard Perez in fourth. Joe Rhodes fifth and David Thompson sixth. Will Chris Paulson continue his winning streak at All American Speedway this weekend?

No changes in the Street Stock division however keep an eye out for Richard Poppert Jr and Chris Lambert as they have been swapping lead roles in the points championship. Richard Poppert Jr is leading the way in the Street Stocks standings as Chris Lambert is closing in on Poppert with a mere seven points from first. Mickey Owens is a mere nine points from second and is looking to join in on the mix for the top spot. In fourth is Byron Gonzales who is ten points from third and is on the road to earning his first victory at All American Speedway. Closely behind Gonzales is Kevin Owens who is four points from fourth. The Street Stock division will not be racing this weekend but will return on July 9th for their Twin 30s. ??

Dan Jinkerson continues to lead the way in the Modified division however Scott Winters is close to recapturing the top spot. Winters had one bad finish due to a wreck ending his night early handing over the points lead to Jinkerson is well on his way back to the top. Winters is a mere eight points from the leader. In third is Steve Cote who made a three position jump and is now 35 points behind second. Andy Field is fourth with missing one race and is still in the chase to regain the third spot. Field is now four points behind third. In the fifth position is Jim Miller who is tied with Jason Bamberg is only eight points from fourth. Michael Ostrowski made a three position jump as well and he is now in the ninth position. Recently Michael has been proving solid finishes and he is well on his way to earning his first victory at All American Speedway.

On Saturday June 18th the grandstands gate will open at 4pm with qualifying around 4pm and racing at 6pm. Pit passes will be available for purchase to the public at 2 pm. The drivers meeting is scheduled for 5pm.
